

Drum roll please..... VITAHL has officially launched its own skincare line! These products will work magic on your skin, not to mention, would look so incredibly cute on your nightstand.

VITAHL Rx by Dr. Tahl Humes, was officially launched on August 24th. The night was filled with friends and frosé (I mean, does it get much better than that?) With her vast medical training and extensive experience helping patients make aesthetic changes to further enhance their appearance, it is no surprise that Dr. Tahl Humes has come up with her own line of innovative medical grade skin care products.

Having healthy, beautiful, clear skin is important, not to mention it's the first thing other people notice and one of the hardest things to fake. When you look good, you feel good. We get it, and that's why VITAHL Rx was created. Available exclusively at VITAHL, VITAHL Rx products were designed to help patients enjoy healthier, younger, more beautiful skin with premium and innovative components sourced from Australia (g'day mate!) Dr. Tahl Humes had a very clear idea of exactly what she wanted each product to look and feel like and perform. Her mission is to help people recognize the first signs of aging and POW, stop'em in their tracks. The innovate products are designed to aid in skin repair, reduce wrinkles, stimulate collagen and moisturize, leaving your skin looking like a million bucks (hello gorgeous!)
